Aviation Student Training Experience

June 25, 2010
(one-day, day program only)

For students entering grades 5-12

NEW this year, in partnership with Space Education Initiatives and UW-Green Bay Summer Camps, we are offering a one-day aviation experience. This training experience will be offered off-site at the Green Bay Austin Straubel Airport, headquartered at Tailwind Flight Center.

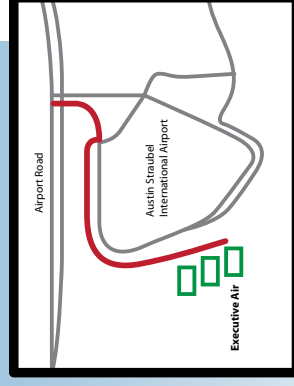

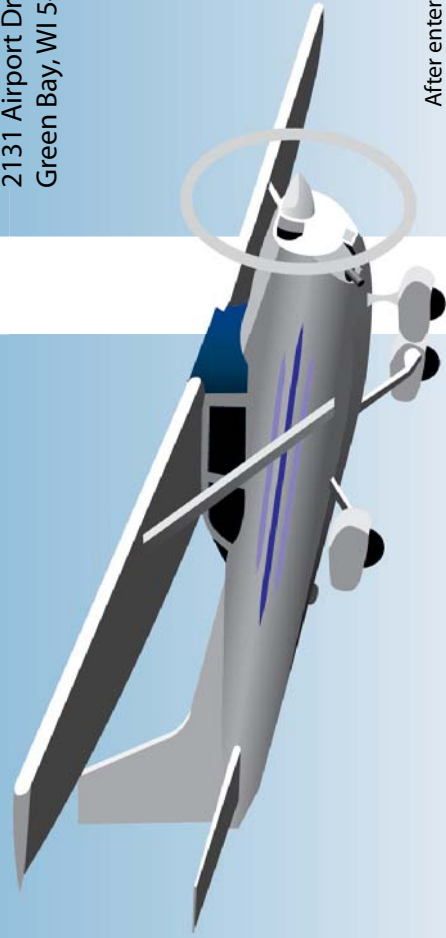

Participants will learn about the basic aerodynamic principles involved in how an aircraft flies, the training needed to become a pilot and career opportunities in aviation. Facility tours will include the Green Bay control tower and radar center*, corporate jet facilities, Tailwind Flight School, and the National Weather Service*.

Each participant will also have the opportunity to take a discovery flight in a training aircraft with a FAA Certified Flight Instructor.

Fees: $95, includes instruction and lunch

Participants will need to report to the Executive Air Building, at the airport.

2131 Airport Drive
Green Bay, WI 54313-5562

After entering the Airport take the first right and follow the access road to the Executive Air Buildings. The buildings are all green and white. The road is highlighted in red.
